A NOTE FROM THE EDITOR • DALYNN MALEK

I am sure that most of us have felt lucky to have the wonderful weather we have had this past few weeks. Intermittent showers followed by days of glorious sunshine are just two of the perks of southern California living. Those of us who have family or friends in other parts of the country know the hard times they have endured this past few weeks with huge amounts of snow and frozen roads. When was the last time you heard of Niagara Falls freezing? Well actually it is just the surface water, but it is still pretty spectacular! So enjoy the California sunshine and go outside to putter around in your garden.

President's Message

Valuing a Simpler Valentine's Day

I have fond memories of sitting around the kitchen table with my mother and sister, making Valentines for our friends and aunties, cutting out flocked roses from an enormous book of wallpaper samples, and adding doilies and crepe paper ruffles. Our mom encouraged handmade cards for every occasion, especially Valentine's Day, a tradition I delight in upholding. For me, Valentine's Day is about connection and affection, not empty signifiers of romantic love.

Valentine's Day is a bit like hot chocolate: it warms the heart, but it can quickly become sickening if you overdo it. In terms of ecological impact, it can sometimes be a disaster. Simple, sincere, and responsible gestures make a more lasting impact than a bouquet of roses grown in Ecuador or Colombia, or a box of chocolate made from cocoa that originated in a narrow band near the equator in West Africa, South America, or Southeast Asia.

Give your love flowers, but instead of a cut bouquet that has generally traveled hundreds of miles, is drenched in pesticides, and dies in a few days, gather flowers from your own garden or choose a living arrangement, such as one of the splendid container gardens available at the Valentine's Extravaganza!

Or ignore high-pressure advertising that says the only way to show love is to buy something shiny and new, and instead make a loving gesture straight to the planet. Which is why, on February 14, when the tide is out, you'll find me on the beach picking up litter, my little Valentine to the Earth.

-Nancy Englund President

Want to Save the Bees? Focus on Habitat. Not Honey Bees

Keeping honey bee hives will not help the 3,600 bee species native to North America. In fact, it might do the opposite. The best solution to bee declines is to address underlying causes like habitat loss and pesticide use. Native flower gardens can support all bees.

The Valentine Extravaganza will be the Highlight of our February Meeting

One of the Garden Club's most exciting and enjoyable events of the year is almost here! Join us on February 13th for our Valentine Extravaganza, a day filled with creativity, shopping, and fun.

Club members will showcase their talents by creating container gardens, gift baskets, art pieces, and other one-of-a-kind items for the Silent Auction. Every item will include a Buy-It-Now option, so if you see something you love, you can skip the bidding and take it home immediately.

Our popular Raffle returns with the chance to win a fabulous prize. Outside, the Plant Table will offer plants ready for planting, cuttings, and a variety of plant-related items and books.

Be sure to visit the Boutique, featuring unique treasures donated by our members. This is a great time to clean out closets and garages—items do not have to be garden-related. Boutique donations may be brought to the February meeting.

And there's even more! This event offers a one-time opportunity to purchase Gate & Garden Tour tickets at the discounted price of $50.00 and $60 for VIP (cash or checks only).

For the first time ever, we will also have an on-site tool sharpening service. Bring your garden tools to be sharpened while you wait, or drop them off during the event.

If you are donating items to any area, please deliver them between 9:00 a.m. and 9:30 a.m. on February 13th.

For questions, please contact Mary Jones at ibjones@cox.net.

Time to Show some Valentine's Day Love to our Beloved Laguna Food Pantry!

I received a heartfelt thank you from Anne Bellyea, Executive Director of Laguna Food Pantry for all the love we shower on them and their clients every month. At the January meeting we collected 195 egg cartons, including 45 from Mary Lewis and her neighbors, bringing our total this club year (since Sept) to 1285, saving the Pantry almost $580! We're well on our way to beating the Sept 2024-May 2025 total of 1422. Way to go!

Remember to ask your neighbors to donate their egg cartons. It's fun for me to see a random bag of cartons at my front door and will be fun for you, too.

Sorry this keeps changing but life is all about change, right? We no longer have a home for ANY plastic egg cartons of any size. Please bring only cardboard. Laguna can only use ½ or full dozen, clean and with lids. If you bring cardboard 18's or 24's we have a home for those thanks to Karen Nelson

Another shout out to Club member Tom Hensel's son Casey, for being our pickup and delivery service for the Pantry. I sure appreciate him and each and every one of you for showing your love to our Pantry.

Live Auction

Hello my friends,

I'm a Platycerium bifurcatum, but you can call me Staggy the Staghorn. I am the star of the first-ever live auction at the Valentine's Extravaganza!

I was lucky enough to be adopted by my current plant

parent, Kim Hall,

when she bought the house where I live. I'm sure I was a big part of why she bought the house. I am a stunning, mature Staghorn fern; even Ruben Flores admits that I am gorgeous and thriving! I have grown so much that Kim and I have reached a mutual understanding that I need more space, preferably on a tree or fence, where I will receive bright, indirect light and occasional watering. Other than that, I don't need much, and in return, I will provide mystery and glamor to your garden. It has taken me decades to reach this impressive size, which is why I am so valuable. I hope you have an excellent place for me to shine my bright leaves. Now remember, I am a big deal, so bid high and often in the live auction! By the way, the winning bidder will get free delivery. I can't wait for you to see me at the February meeting!

Love, Staggy

January Trips & Tours

Casa Romantica Trip & Tour and February Options

Daytrippers, we were the largest T&T group in some time, with 36 attendees enjoying the docent-led tour of Casa Romantica Cultural Center and Gardens in San Clemente. It was a beautiful SoCal winter morning, and looking out at the San Clemente pier, one could appreciate the natural disaster that closed the historic home and grounds of Ole Hanson. After an 18-month closure caused by a major April 2023 landslide, Casa Romantica partially reopened on October 4, 2024. While the Main Salon and interior rooms are open, the Ocean Terrace, amphitheater, and lower gardens remain closed to the general public for ongoing, multi-phase, $8.5 million cliff stabilization efforts.

We, as Laguna Beach Garden Club T&T attendees, had special access to slip beyond the “No Entry” signs to see the recovery and progress, to learn of the future additional plantings and pathways marked by blue and red flags peppering the plant beds and slopes. Enthusiastic docents also gave the history of Ole Hanson and shared extensive details on the interior space of the historic building.

After our guided tours, eighteen club members savored lunch at Trevor’s on the Tracks in San Juan Capistrano where we also serenaded Helga Yaillen, celebrating her 84th birthday!

Our January T&T was an excellent kick-off for 2026, and tentatively, the February T&T will be to the Modjeska House and Gardens or alternatively a nursery crawl. Look out for more information at the February general meeting and Constant Contact email blasts.

A Piece of Magic is a Hat

It is never too early to begin planning your hat for the Gate & Garden Tour Hat Contest! Last year I started about 2 months ahead to get my bespoke Lucky Cowboy hat made by the lovely Ally Cook owner of Lucky Cowboy! It was the most pleasurable and entertaining afternoon ever! I thought we were making my hat, but she looked deep into my personality to make my “Bee” themed hat very “me”! What I learned from that afternoon is that you need to wear your hat with confidence as if it is part of who you are. Ok, I did not master that trick, but it made creating my hat so much more fun to try to envision how I could do that.

Ally has once again agreed to chair the Hat Contest Committee to the delight of Susan Denton! She plans on bringing even more fun and new categories for the contest and of course there will be a prize awarded to the winner in each category.

The first category will be “Silver Linings”, using the Pantone Color of the year “Cloud Dancer,” a soft white that symbolizes calm, this hue encourages quiet reflection, creativity and a blank canvas for new ideas in a noisy world. She encourages you to explore soft whites, ivory, pearl, and subtle shimmer, with sheer fabrics, layered textures, and luminous details.

The second category is “Tides and Texture” a homage to the natural beauty of the coastline of Laguna Beach. Think shells, sea glass, driftwood and natural forms.

The third category is “Whimsy and Wonder”, this category is all about imagination and joy. You are invited to surprise and delight with playful concepts, storytelling elements. I personally think this is where the bees, hummingbirds, butterflies and all things pollinators can freely fly their “freak” flags while being lighthearted and fantastical!

The fourth category is “Western Chic”, a stylish interpretation of western inspired design for everyone. Wide brims, boho details, leather accents, fringe, embroidery, florals, natural textures, and sun-washed tones are encouraged. This is a very fun and versatile category where you can actually “decorate” your existing cowboy hat for the event, and then change it up for daily wear.

Ally would like to convey that guests are encouraged to style their entire look to complement their hat for extra bonus points, letting creativity shine across every category! Many of you may remember seeing Jeanette Morrice at the tour the last several years. She was the inspiration for the contest. She arrives at the tour with her posse of friends all dressed “to impress,” with her entire ensemble augmenting the statement that is her hat! Before Susan and I knew her name we referred to her as the beautiful woman in the cherry dress and spectacular hat.

Let’s go all out and have fun interpreting these great new contest themes and remember the words of Christian Dior, “Without hats there is no civilization.”

January Green Thumb Crafts

Eleven creative Garden Cub ladies met at Dalynn Malek's home January 16th, armed with lots of leaves and a creative spirit to make botanical themed prints. For two hours colors were mixed, then brushed onto leaves, and finally pressed onto paper. The reveal of the resulting print was oft times received with delight or other times with "let's try that one again!" Much experimentation took place as the participants discovered which leaves worked best and what color combinations were pleasing to the eye. At the end of the morning this artistic bunch proudly showed off their botanical beauties. The "patchwork" collage on the top row right, was made from all of the practice prints I made before and during the workshop.

Better Buzz Partners with the Garden Club

Better Buzz, a new coffee spot in Laguna Beach known for their handcrafted coffee drinks, held a ribbon-cutting ceremony on Thursday, January 22, and selected Laguna Beach Garden Club as their non-profit of choice to receive 20% of the sales for that day. Many Garden Club members stopped by. I even dressed up in the Bee costume, borrowed from Jane Leary. The mayor, Mark Orgill, attended along with representatives from Katrina Foley's office and other officials. Better Buzz is the perfect partner for the Club as the whole store is Bee-themed. They offered samples from the Laguna Beach exclusive menu, including Main Beach Matcha (my favorite as I don't like the taste of coffee), Laguna Beach Best Drink ever, and the Crescent Bay Croissant Sandwich. Everything is yummy and the seating is comfy and welcoming. So if you are feeling the need for a "coffee fix", snack, sandwich, or pastry, stop by Better Buzz and let them know you are from the Garden Club. Let's show them a thank you for their support. They are located on Coast Hwy across the street from lifeguard tower and near the pedestrian pavilion.
