Board Meeting Sept 29

A NOTE FROM THE EDITOR • DALYNN MALEK

Many of our members enjoy traveling when they are not busy in their gardens. The joy of travel is discovering new places and trying the local cuisine. The hummingbird is also a world traveler. You may have noticed these petite birds darting through your garden in recent weeks as they begin their annual migration. Hummingbirds fly by day when nectar sources such as flowers are more abundant. Research indicates a hummingbird normally can travel as many as 23 miles in one day. While some hummingbirds begin their fall migration as early as late July, most don't start their journey south until August or September. These tiny travelers need a lot of fuel to keep their wings flapping. Click on the link below to see what plants you could include in your garden to provide much needed nectar for their flight.

President's Message

Reduce, Reuse, Recycle

Get ready for another year of fascinating speakers covering topics from roses to mushrooms, dried flowers to fresh herbs. Also, learn about inspiring conservation projects from Ed Almanza, who is working to protect the Aliso Creek Estuary, and Dr. Jana Johnson, who nearly single-handedly saved the Palos Verde blue butterfly from the brink of extinction. And each month, you get to hear me, your president, speak passionately about how you can help save the planet by reducing, reusing, and recycling. I reused Jeanne Yale's president's theme. I had planned to recycle my president's messages from my first term as President in 2018, but I couldn't find them on my computer.

I grew up in Northern California in the 1970s. Recycling was a challenge: bi-metal cans had to be cleaned and flattened, glass bottles needed metal rings and labels removed, and we had to drive our collection to the next town—not for cash, but to get a gas voucher. We did it because we loved and respected the planet and its limited resources. Today, recycling is much easier, with curbside pickup in dedicated bins. You probably know other simple steps to help protect the environment: carry a reusable water bottle, use cloth bags at the grocery store, avoid fast fashion and buy secondhand, pick recycled paper products, and squish your toilet paper roll to save space. I'm a bit obsessed with toilet paper. People use at least 57 sheets daily and 27 rolls per year, which adds up to 384 trees over a lifetime. If those trees stood, they could have absorbed carbon from nearly 10 million miles of car travel. Nationally, if each person swapped just four rolls of regular paper for recycled paper a year, we could save a million trees and 356 million gallons of freshwater annually. As you can see, small changes can make a big difference. Global warming isn't one overwhelming problem; it's a collection of many smaller issues we can address.

One action you can take this month is to join the Coastal Cleanup on Saturday, September 20, at Main Beach, from 9 am to noon. In one event, you can serve your community, help protect our planet, and if you visit our table, share your love of gardening.

Danielle Hahn A Rosy Story

Danielle Hahn and her husband Bill started Rose Story Farm in 1998 on their fifteen-acre farm in the Carpinteria Valley in Central California. Rose Story Farm began in 1998, when they decided to try growing 1000 rose bushes on a half-acre of their lemon and avocado farm. The couple imagined an old-fashioned rose farm, with the radiant hues of European and pre-1950 American varieties in bloom across their farm. They named the farm Rose Story Farm because roses are central to some of the family's most enchanting experiences of their family-owned business.

Danielle Hahn was born in Santa Barbara and attended local schools until she entered Stanford University. She graduated with honors three years later, with a BA in psychology and a minor in Italian. Returning to Santa Barbara, she opened a series of retail establishments while at the same time being the founder and managing partner of an innovative marketing firm that designed and launched events and premiere parties for the entertainment industry.

Danielle was honored with the Great Rosarian of the World award in 2014. Rose Story Farm and Danielle have been featured in

Santa Barbara Magazine, Wine Country Living, Sunset Magazine, Oprah Magazine, Martha Stewart Living, Veranda, and The Wall Street Journal just to name a few. Television coverage of Rose Story Farm has been presented on "California Heartland" (a PBS special), "The Today Show" and Martha Stewart's Living online series "American Made," which features unusual ingredients into everyday cooking and baking. Get ready to be inspired and motivated!

Please join us on Friday, September 13, 2025 from 9:30-10:00 a.m. for social time and refreshments, the meeting begins promptly at 10:00 a.m. Meetings are held at Laguna Presbyterian Church in Tankersley Hall located at 415 Forest Avenue, Laguna Beach. Non-members are invited to attend for free on their first visit. For more information about the garden club:

Our Membership Climbs to 224

The Club is pleased to report that we are starting the Garden Club season of 2025-2026 with 224 members, a truly robust number. Thank you to all who renewed, rejoined and decided we were a good fit and decided to join “The Best Garden Club in OC” – just ask us.

We encourage you to invite a friend to our meetings as our guest to listen to our world-class speakers and at that point if she/he feels we are a good fit, she/he can join. Membership is open to all anytime throughout the year. No requirement to live in Laguna; in fact, 40% of our members live in other communities. Applications are available on our website and will also be available at the meetings.

The new, beautiful 2025-2026 Membership Book will be available for pick up at the September 12th meeting and subsequent meetings. If you can't attend, you can designate a person to pick up yours for you. All newly joined members' name tags will also be available at the meeting. The Membership Table is located to the right of the entrance of Tankersley Hall near the French doors.

Arrive early (social time is 9:30 to 10am) to enjoy a treat, have a coffee, peruse the Plant Table on the patio for great bargains, check out the new items at the Gift Shop, and sign up for Trips & Tours, if you are interested. Please do not park in the church parking lot as our meeting starting and ending times coincide with Pre-school pick-up and drop off.

Reminder to all: wear your name tag to each meeting to receive a ticket for a chance to win a prize. Be sure to receive your ticket. Perry Stampfel will be handing them out.

Keep your name tag in a safe place (albeit hopefully a place you can remember). If anyone wants to order a replacement or spare name tag for $10 (payment can be made at the meeting), please contact Lynn Jax at Email: lynnmjax@icloud.com.

I'm looking forward to seeing you all in September.

A Bee's Spiritual Journey

The beehive is often seen as a model for a well-functioning society where everyone works together harmoniously. Spiritually, this symbol encourages us to reflect on our own communities and how we contribute to the greater good. The hive reminds us that, just like bees, we can achieve great things when we cooperate and support one another.

In ancient Egypt, bees were symbols of the soul and immortality. The Greeks and Romans also worshiped bees, associating them with wisdom, fertility and the afterlife. In Celtic culture, bees were considered symbols of wisdom, community and the cycle of life. Bees were often seen as harbingers of important news or omens, and their presence was thought to bring good fortune. It is thought that if a bee flew close to you, it was seen as a sign of an upcoming change or important messages. The prophetic meaning of bees often revolved around productivity and the promise of abundance. Native Americans believed that bees could guide one's path towards success and prosperity. That has certainly been true for our Club.

As the Laguna Beach Garden Club enters its 98th year there is much for this hive to be proud of and to look forward to as well. The incredible Board of Directors has been working diligently all summer to bring together a packed year of wonderful speakers, Trips and Tours, fun events and so much more for everyone to enjoy. In addition, preparations have been ongoing throughout the summer for a series of Centennial events scheduled for 2027/2028.

As we start 2025/2026, I encourage you to join the Club's many opportunities for all members. If you joined to make friends, step out of your comfort zone and participate. Volunteer for one of the many volunteer opportunities, attend a green thumb event and get to know some members on a one-on-one basis, that is how real friendships are formed.

If a bee from our hive visits you, some interpret this as a sign that continued perseverance may lead to rewards. Or it just might be that they want to include you on some club activity! I invite you to lean into these vibrations and have an incredible year with the Laguna Beach Garden Club.

Welcome back, everyone! I hope you all had a fabulous summer.

Doesn't it feel just like the first day back at school when you were a kid? It sure does feel like that to me! I can't wait to wear my new back-to-school outfit and bring my new lunch pail to our first meeting on September 12.

Please remember to bring all the empty egg cartons you've saved up over the summer so we can fill up my little red wagon. It's empty and ready to deliver your egg cartons to the Food Pantry to give them a second life and save $0.45 for the Pantry for each carton we deliver.

Remember to stack them and bring only cartons with lids, plastic or paper are both welcome. Food donations are always welcome, too. And if you are so inclined I will make sure to pass along any checks made out to the Laguna Food Pantry from you.

See you in September!

Join the Fun – Volunteer for the Gate & Garden Tour!

Each spring, the Laguna Beach Garden Club hosts its beloved Gate & Garden Tour—a celebration of our community's creativity, beauty, and love of nature. This cherished event not only delights visitors with access to some of Laguna's most stunning private gardens, but it also serves as the club's biggest fundraiser, supporting scholarships, school gardens, civic beautification projects, and community education.

Volunteers are the heart of the Tour. From greeting guests and guiding them through gardens, to assisting with check-in, the hat contest, raffle sales, or hospitality, every helping hand makes a difference. Volunteering is also a wonderful way to connect with fellow members, meet new friends, and experience the Tour from the inside out.

Whether you can give a few hours or the full day, your support ensures this event continues to flourish. Plus, volunteers often say it's one of the most rewarding—and fun—experiences of the year!

Green Day at the Sawdust Festival

On Sunday, July 13, 2025, at 9:30 a.m., LBGC volunteers gathered at the Sawdust grounds, their arms full of succulent cuttings generously donated by Club members. The team arranged tables with care, creating an eye-catching display beside the pond. By the time the festival gates opened at 11:00, a vibrant tapestry of textures and colors greeted visitors.

Festival guests delighted in “shopping” at the tables, each leaving with a bag of handpicked cuttings—free of charge, to their astonishment.

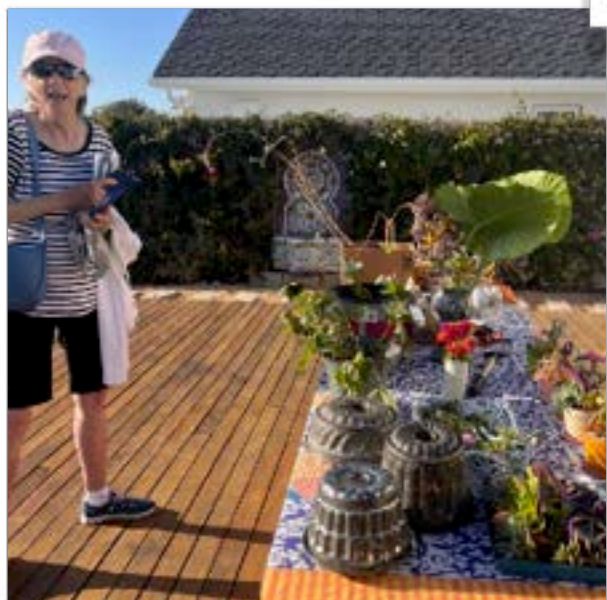

Members of the Laguna Beach Garden Club engaged warmly with guests, offering advice on rooting techniques, discussing ideal planting spots, and sharing stories about the wide world of succulents.

The club’s spirit of community and horticultural passion was on full display. Curious visitors not only left with living mementos but also with a better understanding of the LBGC’s mission and activities. The Green Day event was a resounding success.

Summer Garden Bounty Exchange

The event was great! About 20 people with lots of interesting products to trade, met in the garden of Sharon Singer. Partners and husbands came along which made the evening very festive. Thanks for all of the garden bounty and for a very fun afternoon.
